WHMO media team during the reporting period developed radio round tables talk-shows that were professionally recorded after the USIP approval. The radio round table talk shows focused on the Role of Religious Scholars in building and strengthening Peace.

Broadcasting Roundtable Talk Show:

During the reporting period, the 3rd Panel Discussion was successfully conducted on 10 July, 2021 based on the WHMO broadcasting schedule. The Third Panel Discussion was aired from 9:00 AM to 10:00 AM on Saturday across the Khost province through partner radio with an aim to create awareness among local audiences about the Role of Religious Scholars in strengthening Peace.

Mullah Younis Farooqi	Peace from the point of view of Islam, peace in the eyes of Allah is the best and conflict is the worst thing as it is stanic. So it is clear that peace is very important not only for survival but also for social development. Islam says that all people need to live under peace as it is an endowment of Allah to human beings and Allah rejoices in peace. We need to make collective efforts to ensure peace to allow a better perspective for today's and for future generations to live in justice and enjoy human rights and fundamental freedoms.
Ms. Khyalo Bawari	There is no doubt that women suffer a lot as a result of conflict as when a person loses his life, he is either a son or a brother of a woman or husband. Women's role in strengthening peace is very significant as they can easily convince their family members who are on the battlefield to stop fighting, leave insurgency and to embrace peace. We on urgent basis need to campaign to create awareness regarding the value of peace in life and community and I really appreciate the efforts of WHMO in this regard. We should make people aware of the peace importance. Women need to share lesson learned with others in community to build up their knowkow and understanding regarding peace and security, law and order. we cannot rule out the role played by media in building and strengthening peace. It is media that brings the voice of peace to the ears of the people.

 So we need to develop a culture of peace where people can understand nature of local problems; have the skills to resolve conflict constructively; know and live by international standards of human rights, gender and racial equality; appreciate cultural diversity; and respect the integrity of the earth. Then we can make it happen.

Monitoring of program through WHMO Phone system: The programs are regularly heard with a keen interest in the target province which can be determined through the feedbacks received from audience, both positive & negative. The programs are being broadcasted as per agreed shecdule and weekly plan. The first and second radio round table was broadcasted at 9:00 PM on Saturday based on the broadcasting schedule.
